

Photo Feature The Art of Environmental Education at Steel Valley Middle School

Once a week sixth graders do a count of birds on school grounds in all kinds of weather.

^ A pond resident happy to be in the spotlight.

<< A pond at the school offers a living laboratory for students.

One of Alice Cottone's favorite pictures.

More snow birders!