Gov.-Elect Corbett Names Agency Transition Teams

Gov-elect Tom Corbett this week announced more than 400 members of his transition team. The transition team is made up of 17 different committees, each examining a specific area of state government.

The members of each of committee, who are volunteering their time, are tasked with reviewing the operations of the state government departments and agencies under the governor's jurisdiction and will prepare a transition report for Gov.-elect Corbett.

"I'm honored that so many men and women have agreed to participate in my transition team," said Corbett. "The work they are doing is essential as we build a new administration and prepare to lead Pennsylvania."
